

David C. Stewart - Principle & Owner, David C. Stewart & Associates

David Stewart specializes in energy analyses and green building assessments using state-of-the-art tools such as Green Globes and the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) protocols. He is a national team member on the Canadian Commission on Building and Fire Codes to update.

David C. Stewart & Associates Incorporated (DCSA) provides consulting services for governments, utilities, private companies and public institutions to improve energy performance in the residential, commercial, institutional and industrial sectors. David C. Stewart & Associates Incorporated provides services for: Green building assessments using state-of-the-art environmental protocols, Analysing energy and greenhouse gas use, Energy strategy and management development for all energy sectors, and Renewable energy assessments. This leads to significant long-term energy, water and waste cost savings for any major upgrade of facilities including new and existing buildings.